BICENTENNIAL CONCERT HAS OLD FASHIONED THEME

concert on campus May 23. With the Cal State Concert Band serving as host, the concert will begin at 4 p.m. at the north end of the LC-Building.

Bands will play, cannons will roar and lemonade will flow at an old fashioned "Sunday Afternoon in the Park" bicentennial band College and public are invited to bring a picnic lunch and enjoy the afternoon, according to Arthur Moorefield, director of the Concert Band, and coordinator of the event. Light refreshments may be purchased, also.

Joining in the musical program will be the Barstow College Band, College of the Desert Band and Riverside Concert Band. Featured selection of the combined bands will be "The Battle of Trenton" by J. Hewitt, highlighted by 16 cannons, and describing such historical wartime scenes as crossing the Delaware, the charge and the battle, the army in motion.

The trumpet trio in L. Anderson's "Bugler's Holiday" will be performed by Steve Pargman, graduate assistant and students Byron Miller and Dan Reed.

Other numbers on the program will be Gilmore's 1857 "Norwich Cadets" and eight selections by John Philip Sousa, with "Stars and Stripes Forever" providing a rousing conclusion to the concert.

NEW BACHELORS DEGREE IN HUMAN SERVICES FOR 76-77

The College has received approval from the Chancellor's Office to offer the degree of Bachelor of Arts in Human Services, effective with the 1976-77 academic year.

The interdisciplinary, career-oriented program, in addition to courses in research methods in human services and human services counseling, will draw from sociology, psychology, ethnic studies and health science. The degree is designed to add to performance effectiveness and promotional opportunities for people employed in the helping professions. The interdisciplinary nature of the major is an important feature at the paraprofessional level where the worker is apt to be called upon to serve in a variety of situations and deal with a variety of human needs.

One of the requirements for the major is internship in sociology and social work. Additional information is available in the Sociology Department.

CHILD CARE CENTER WILL WELCOME
GUESTS AT OPEN HOUSE-DEDICATION

The College Child Care Center will be dedicated Tuesday, May 18. President John Pfau and A.S.B. President Raul Ceja will officially dedicate the center at its first open house, 11 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

The College Community and public are invited to attend the occasion at the center, located at Kendall School, 4951 North State Street.

Parents can pre-register their children for next fall during the open house and the rest of Spring Quarter, for a pre-registration fee of $10 which goes toward medical and insurance fees if the child is registered in the fall.

The center is open from 7:45 to 6 p.m., Monday through Thursday and 7:45 a.m. to 5 p.m., Friday. During the Summer Quarter the center will not be open. With the use of student teachers and interns next year, the staff hopes to provide a year-round facility starting with the fall of 1976.

VERSATILE ENTERTAINER
MC MULLEN HERE THURS.

Singer-comedian-songwriter-guitarist Tim McMullen will entertain Thursday noon, May 20 in the Commons Patio. Beginning at 11:30 a.m., Mr. McMullen will start what he terms his "wry irony" and music "which ranges from the truly moving ballad to the ludicrous one-liner and points between."

The performer's career began in 1965, interrupted by three years as a communications and English teacher. He has entertained in clubs and colleges, statewide.

TESTING METHODS CRITIC A critic of present educational testing methods, Dr.
TO SPEAK HERE WEDNESDAY Elliot W. Eisner of Stanford U, will speak here Wednesday evening, May 19. His talk, "The Impact of Achievement Testing on the Quality of Education," will begin at 7 p.m. in LC-500.
It is open to the College and the public without charge.

Dr. Eisner is a critic of the systems approach which specifies how the person will be after the instruction, according to Lloyd Campbell, Lect., Education, who arranged the talk. Dr. Eisner, Stanford professor of education and art, is president of the National Art Education Assn., has been a consultant to the National Institute of Education and has served on the board of editors of several publications, including The Review of Educational Research.
